The Fulbright Program

The Fulbright Program is the United States Government's most prestigious grant program. The U.S. Congress created the Fulbright Program in 1946, immediately after World War II, to foster mutual understanding among nations through educational and cultural exchanges. Senator J. William Fulbright, sponsor of the legislation, saw this legislation as a step toward building an alternative to armed conflict. The Fulbright Program enables U.S. students, scholars and artists to benefit from unique resources in every corner of the world and allows students, faculty members, teachers, artists and professionals from all over the world to study in the U.S.A. The Fulbright Program provides individuals with the chance to gain international competence in an increasingly interdependent world.

You can visit <https://eca.state.gov/fulbright> to get more information on the Fulbright Program and the 160 Fulbright Commissions worldwide.

The Turkish Fulbright Commission

<https://fulbright.org.tr/>

The Turkish Fulbright Commission - the Commission for Educational Exchange between the United States and Turkey - was established by a binational agreement signed between Turkey and the United States in 1949. The Commission started its activities in accordance with Law No. 5596 enacted by the Turkish Parliament on March 13, 1950.

The Commission supports Turkish and American graduate students, faculty members, teachers, artists and professionals through grants which include travel and living expenses. It also offers educational advising for Turkish students wishing to study in the U.S.A. Our Commission was founded to develop mutual understanding between the Turkish and American people through educational and cultural exchange. The members of the Commission Board are assigned by the Turkish and American governments and they represent both countries.

Since the foundation of our Commission in 1949, funding has been provided by the governments of both Turkey and the United States, supporting around 6,500 Turkish and American scholars. Our head office is in Ankara and there is a branch office in İstanbul.

Grants offered by the Turkish Fulbright Commission to Turkish Students:

Master's Grant

For individuals who would like to pursue their master's degrees in the USA.

Ph.D. Grant

For individuals who would like to pursue their doctorate degrees in the USA.

Professor Aziz Sancar

Ph.D. Grant

This is a special grant program in honor of Prof. Aziz Sancar, recipient of the 2015 Nobel Prize in Chemistry.

Visiting Scholar Program

Fulbright Postdoctoral Program

For faculty and researchers who received their doctorate degrees within the last 5 years and who would like to conduct postdoctoral research in their fields at the universities and research centers in the USA.

Scholar in Residence (S-I-R) Program

This is a program for U.S. colleges and universities to host scholars from other countries, who teach primarily on the undergraduate level and assist in internationalizing U.S. campuses, curriculum and communities.

Ph.D. Dissertation Research Grant

For PhD candidates who are enrolled in PhD programs at universities in Turkey, and who are in the process of writing their dissertations.

Foreign Language Teaching Assistant (FLTA) Program

This is a non-degree program for early career English and Turkish language teachers or professionals, as well as seniors in undergraduate programs in related fields.

Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program

This is a non-degree program designed for young and mid-career professionals in leadership positions who have a commitment to public service and the potential for professional advancement.

Community College Initiative (CCI) Program

This program is for students who enrolled in vocational schools of higher education in Turkey.

Fulbright Master's Grant

A yearly allowance of up to $ 50.000 is offered for a maximum of two academic years, covering a monthly stipend for living expenses, and tuition and fees.

A round trip plane ticket and health insurance are also provided.

A cumulative G.P.A. of at least 3.00 out of 4.00, the result of a choice of accepted English exams, and other requirements can be accessed at the web site:

<https://fulbright.org.tr/burs/3/Master's-Grant>

The Legum Magister or LL.M. degree

LL.M. (Master of Laws) is an internationally recognized postgraduate law degree awarded to those already holding a professional law degree, and who have completed advanced education and research in a particular area of law. Lawyers may choose to pursue LLM programs to gain expertise in a specific sector, for career advancement, and to build a professional network. An LL.M. is usually obtained by completing a one-year full-time program. Many law firms prefer candidates with an LL.M. degree because it indicates that a lawyer has acquired advanced, specialized legal training, and is qualified to work in a multinational legal environment.

A.B.D. de hukuk eğitimi:

Hukuk eğitimi, lisans üstü seviyede bir derecedir. Uygun bir lisans programı bitiren öğrenciler, Hukuk alanı için özel bir sınava girerek (LSAT) hukuk fakültelerine girer ve JD (Juris Doctor) derecesi ile mezun olurlar. Daha sonra belli bir alanda uzmanlaşmak isteyen hukuk mezunları ise LL.M. (Latince'de Magister Legum) programlarına başvurabilir. Türkiye'de hukuk lisansına sahip mezunlar, A.B.D. de LL.M. programlarına başvurabilir. Bazı üniversiteler öğrencilerin kendi özgün LLM programlarını oluşturmalarına da izin verebilirler.

LLM programları genellikle 1 yılda tamamlanır, çoğunlukla bir tez yazmaları beklenir.

Northwestern Pritzker Law uniquely blends a rigorous intellectual environment with a collegial and supportive community. Our students have access to the most interdisciplinary research faculty in the nation. We also have one of the lowest student-faculty ratios, so our students enjoy an unusual amount of individual access to these scholars, even after graduation. Northwestern's lakefront location in the heart of downtown Chicago provides a spectacular setting in which to live and study. A major world financial center, Chicago is the third largest city in the United States and one of its largest legal markets. Northwestern Law's proximity to courts, commerce, and public interest activities enables students to experience the practice of law, as well as its theory, in one of the most vibrant legal and business communities in the world.

The University of Michigan Law School has embraced a global view of law and legal studies since its founding. In 1890, it started one of the first LL.M. programs in the US and in 2001 it became the first U.S. law school to require a transnational law course for its JD students. Law students can take courses at the university's 18 other top-ranked schools and colleges and non-law professors are part of the faculty. Finally, Michigan Law is unique because it is located in a quintessential college town where the focus is on learning, growing, and building lifelong relationships.

University of Pennsylvania Law School

Philadelphia, PA

www.law.upenn.edu

gradadms@law.upenn.edu

The University of Pennsylvania Law School is an ivy-league institution in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the United States' East Coast. The LL.M. program is a one-year, full-time course of study in advanced legal topics designed primarily for lawyers trained outside the United States. Students select courses from an extensive curriculum of specialized courses and seminars at Penn Law. Penn Law grants a generalized LL.M. that allows each student to design his or her own curriculum and, in doing so, may choose to focus on a particular topic. LL.M. students take courses alongside our upper level JD students and are with us for ten months including the five-week summer program. Penn Law LL.M. students are also eligible to enroll in the Wharton Business and Law Certificate, a custom designed program for Penn Law LL.M. students taught by Wharton faculty and industry experts selected for their teaching skills, subject expertise and ability to offer applied concepts and examples to participants.

VANDERBILT®
LAW SCHOOL

Vanderbilt Law School is located on the beautiful Vanderbilt University campus in Nashville, Tennessee. The law school combines the advantages of a stimulating university community, a top-tier faculty, a small, carefully selected student body, and a vibrant, sophisticated city. Among the nation's leading law schools, Vanderbilt is nationally and internationally recognized for its distinguished faculty, its talented students drawn from across the United States and around the world, and its rigorous curriculum. Vanderbilt Law School attracts law students and faculty seeking a first-rate academic institution that also affords an excellent quality of life. Vanderbilt offers three LL.M. program options: a general LL.M. degree, a specialized LL.M. in Law and Business, and a Thesis Track option. All tracks offer the courses required to qualify for the New York Bar exam. A variety of academic offerings allow LL.M. students to focus on a particular area of interest in an array of fields, including corporate and business law, constitutional law, litigation and dispute resolution, criminal law, international law, intellectual property, and environmental law. LL.M. students are fully integrated into the Vanderbilt community, studying alongside American and other international students in the J.D. program. Vanderbilt's small LL.M. program size makes it possible for students to enjoy greater access to faculty and promotes a sense of community that is one of Vanderbilt's most distinguishing attributes.

Wake Forest Law has grown along with and at times led the development of the institution of which it is a part. The law school, which has worked to meet the needs of a changing legal profession as well as the changing needs of students, continues to be a leader in legal education by modeling engagement and professionalism through academic excellence and a thorough commitment to service. The formal study of law has been part of Wake Forest University since 1894. Over the years, it has evolved into an independent, multi-dimensional, nationally recognized university located in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. With one of the longest running LL.M. programs for foreign trained attorneys in the U.S., Wake Forest University School of Law has a long-standing tradition of valuing the importance of international exchange and for preparing its graduates for significant leadership roles. Wake Forest Law's small size ensures that each student receives the individualized attention they need in order to be successful in their program and to meet their personal career goals. Students may specialize their LL.M. degree in an area of law most important to them and their career growth.
